Burney Slack Is Candidate Office Of County Judge

BURNEY SLACK

Burney Slack authorizes the announcement of his candidacy for County Judge of Randall County. He served in this office a few years ago, and during the past few months has been assistant in the office. His announcement states:

I wish to take this means of announcing my candidacy for the office of County Judge and Ex-officio Superintendent of Schools of Randall County, subject to the Democratic primary in July.

Randall County has been my home for forty-nine years. I graduated from the Canyon High School, attended West Texas State and graduated from the University of Texas. The good people of Randall County honored me by electing me to this office a few years ago and for this I am very grateful and wish to thank them for their support and cooperation.

In view of these facts and the experience I have had along these lines, I feel that I can make you a good County Judge.

I plan to see each voter during this campaign and discuss my candidacy with each; but should I miss anyone, I take this opportunity to ask for your vote and support in the coming primary election.

I consider the office of County Judge and Ex-officio School Superintendent an important County office, and should I merit the confidence of you voters, I promise to do my very best.

Increase For Sunday School Attendance

With a goal of 1,000 for Sunday School attendance in five Canyon churches last Sunday, there were 981 present, according to the reports. Attendance at the community services in the various churches last week was better than in preceding years, and the pastors believe the goal of a thousand can be exceeded soon. The attendance by churches was as follows:

|                 | Jan. 4 | Jan. 11 |
|-----------------|--------|---------|
| Assembly of God | 52     | 56      |
| Baptist         | 407    | 464     |
| Christian       | 37     | 50      |
| Methodist       | 247    | 318     |
| Presbyterian    | 81     | 93      |
| Totals          | 824    | 981     |

Canyon pastors believe there is no real reason why attendance in Sunday schools should not be double this number every Sunday.

All-Department Art-Exhibit Is Now On Display

An All-Department exhibit of art by students of West Texas State College is now being shown in the main dining room of the new cafeteria. The exhibit was arranged for the occasion of the recent dinner for Dr. James P. Cornette, new executive vice-president of the college, and will remain on display through Friday.

Freshmen, Sophomore and Junior classes are represented in the exhibit. Oil paintings by first semester Freshmen are to be seen along the north end of the room. Drawings in black and white and in charcoal by the Junior Life class, were drawn from real life, from plaster casts and from the imagination. These are shown on the east wall of the room.

Examples of fine lettering are on display from the Sophomore lettering class, and posters by these students are scattered throughout the exhibit. Also to be seen are displays of design, flower composition and free hand drawings, in both black and white and color.

These classes are represented by students of A. G. Kieselbach and Miss Isabel Robinson, and this is the largest exhibit of its kind to be shown on the campus.

March of Dimes Drive for Funds Begins Jan. 15

Contributions will be accepted beginning Jan. 15, for the annual March of Dimes to be used for the treatment of infantile paralysis. Mrs. C. O. Elkins, chairman of the drive in Randall County, is requesting all local clubs and organizations to co-operate in this campaign.

First drive of this kind was launched ten years ago, and they have been held annually since that date, with many children benefitted through the use of these funds. Even though it has been several years since the disease was felt in epidemic form, it is still present.

Land Owners Outline Fear Water Situation

The News has had further communications with Amarillo parties who are seeking to enjoin a further development of the water supply for Amarillo in northwest Randall county.

Land owners do not contest the right of Amarillo to build pipe lines, and take water from any area that it chooses, provided it does not infringe upon the rights of the land owners at the present time, or in future years.

The position taken is that development of such wells will have a decided effect upon future irrigation in that section, just as it is having a decided effect upon irrigation wells at the present time.

It is contended by land owners in Randall county that the further development of water for Amarillo in this territory will be only temporary. That the citizens committee on water recommended that Amarillo go northeast of Amarillo for its future water supply in view of the fact that the pipe line which is contemplated now will be useless in 20 to 25 years, as the field in northwest Randall county will be pumped down to a point where it will no longer be profitable to use wells that will be drilled in this area.

According to information received by The News this week, the land owners of Randall county will carry the fight to the Supreme Court in order to establish their right to protection from further depletion of the field. A spokesman charges that every land owner in that section has joined in the fight, and that it is not the fight alone of the Bush Estate, which has taken the lead in the fight.

For the present no organization in Randall county has been asked to assist in this water fight, although it is stated by land owners in the northwest part of the county that all of the territory northwest of Canyon will be affected by this drain on the underground water supply.

NEW MANAGER

Earnest L. Keene assumed his duties as manager of the Consumers Service Station Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Waymon Leach of Dalhart were Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Leach.

Dr. James P. Cornette, new executive vice-president of West Texas State and president-elect, was introduced to 400 citizens of the Panhandle Friday night at the beautiful new cafeteria on the campus. A dinner was arranged by the Chamber of Commerce and the Canyon Rotary Club. Dr. Cornette came from Baylor University of Waco last week where he had served as Dean for several years. He will succeed Dr. J. A. Hill as president on September 1 when Dr. Hill will retire after 38 years of service to the college. For 30 years of this time Dr. Hill has been president of the college, and served as president longer than any college administrator in Texas.

Herschell Coffee, president of the Rotary Club, presided. Greetings were extended to the visitors by Delbert Lowes, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Newton Harrell of Claude, member of the Board of Regents, introduced the visiting regents, Judge William L. Kerr of Midland, president of the Board; Dr. M. C. Eidsen of Austin and Hon. Walter Woodul of Houston. Each of the Regents expressed his pleasure at the fine reception which was given Dr. Cornette, and complimented the people of this region for their support of the college in past years. Each regent predicted a bright future for the college under the brilliant leadership of Dr. Cornette.

The Regents paid high tribute to Dr. Hill for his devotion to duty during the long years that he had served West Texas State. The development and growth of the institution has been due to his ability as a leader in this region.

Dr. Hill thanked the thousands of people of this region who had worked with him in the past years in the development of the institution. He pointed to the achievement of the past 38 years, but predicted that the work had just begun. He predicted that the people of this area will support Dr. Cornette in the further development and improvement of the college.

Regarding Dr. Cornette, T. E. Johnson of the Amarillo Times made the following comment:

Dr. Cornette impressed the large crowd representing every community in the Panhandle. His hearers were convinced that he has the proper educational background to make an excellent college president, that he visions great opportunities in the Plains country for the young men and women who will seek training at Canyon, and that, above all, he "thinks right," and will be frank and honest on any issue, both with his student body and with the people of the region. He talks like the people of the Panhandle like to hear a man talk.

One thing that stands out in Dr. Cornette's make-up is his forthrightness. He uses the standards of honesty, sincerity and straightforwardness to measure other men. "If he has these," said the speaker, "I'll get along with him; if he doesn't, I don't care whether I get along with him or not; I despise an artificial front," which was another way of saying that he didn't have any time for a man or woman which wasn't honest and sincere, or who sought to sail under false colors. He is deeply imbued with the ideology of the "American way of life"—but he is tolerant.

To illustrate this point Dr. Cornette told his hearers that the man who accuses another of being a Communist merely because the other man differs with him over a particular political issue or belief, when neither is a Communist, that the accuser in such an instance is "as dangerous, if not more so, than a Communist." By such intolerance and through such tactics, he pointed out, a non-Communist, or a person posing as an exponent of the "American Way of Life," could be one of its most potent dangers. It is hard to set down on paper the thought that Dr. Cornette left in this connection, but the large audience sensed his inherent passion for tolerance, and it was his attitude in general which pleased the crowd.

The occasion for presenting Dr. Cornette to the people of this area was a red letter day for the school—and all who are interested in education, more conscious of the important role which Dr. J. A. Hill has played in developing West Texas State, and it provided a new vision for development within the institution. Regents who were present left no doubt as to their plans for giving West Texas State all the encouragement and financial help within their power.

Judge A. H. Hunt Asks Re-election To Judge's Office

JUDGE A. H. HUNT

To Democratic Voters of Randall County:

In submitting my announcement as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Judge of our county, I am doing so solely on my desire to serve in this capacity another term and base the success of my candidacy on the record of past service.

I have been diligent in my administration to conserve finances of the county and keep our activities in the line of progress of the phases of county business that came under my supervision. I am, with the co-operation of our commissioners, rather proud of our accomplishments and ask you to think over the varied division of needs and duties and decide if we have not made some headway.

The audits show generous reductions, improvements of county problems, the court house, highways and roads without any increase in tax rate. I actually believe delinquency, a minor but growing problem, has been discouraged and reduced. I am not unmindful this county has a high class citizenship whose sentiment helps and influences many of the delinquents to avoid questionable acts and behavior. I interpret this sentiment, citizens, to mean that where kindly notice does not succeed legal regulations be enforced. This is a sentiment that saves many reckless young westerners to lives of usefulness.

I am profoundly grateful for your past support; and this time if you think me worthy, I shall greatly appreciate your favors for another term. I will be active and faithful on the job.

Again thanking you I am most respectfully,

A. H. HUNT.

Editorials

President Truman created somewhat of a stir in his address to Congress. Those who had expected the President to turn somewhat to the right of left believe that he is playing politics to the extent of turning left of left. Maybe he is trying to hedge off Henry Wallace. On the other hand, those who have watched national politics throughout the years are convinced of nothing. This is a presidential election year. Every word of every political leader, and every act of every potential candidate will be watched. The trouble is that these words and acts are subject to the liberal interpretation of each American citizen. What the candidate says amounts to nothing in comparison to the construction that is put on his utterances. At the beginning of this new session of Congress, with the Republicans in control of both branches, you would naturally expect that GOP would be on the alert to put out such political poison that they believed might defeat the President in November.

It seems that the landowners of Randall county who are trying to stop the water development of Amarillo in the northwest part of the county by opposing additional wells but they will have to fight the laws of the state before they stop these wells. The News is sympathetic to the land owners in their argument that depletion of the underground water supply faces them. Likewise, Amarillo must have more water. The whole water situation in Texas is certain to be resolved before the next session of the legislature. This very situation in Randall county will strengthen the conviction of water experts that something must be done to keep injudicious from being done in Texas.

All kinds of measures have been proposed in the way of laws that would curb the trend of higher prices and inflation. But there are few that will be of much avail until the production of goods catches up with the demand. So long as people have plenty of money and the supplies of goods are made to meet the popular demand, there will continue to be a tendency for prices to go up. Lengthening of the work week without any corresponding increase in the weekly pay would have an immediate influence in driving prices down. But that is one simple measure to appeal to the politicians or to the men who would have to put it in the longer hours. But prices can't come down while the work goes up.

Wonder if the city buses in our town their people in their checks as they are showing reports of increased bank deposits. If you will examine carefully these bank deposits you will see how much of that big money belongs to country banks, which must have city representatives. Oh, well, as the bus leaves their door while they wait. At any rate billions of dollars are credited to the deposits of the big banks in reality belong to the depositors of small country banks scattered throughout the nation. It makes good reading for our city citizens.

The National Labor Relations Board reports that it has a backlog of cases that outnumber anything since before the Taft-Hartley law and since the board's new composition with a new lot of members, there isn't any selling when it will come up and the time the employees are bringing about as many charges as are the unions. The unions are doing everything in their power to throw the board into disarray. Labor leaders who have been living on the fat of the land and the glibness of the membership card seem to get used to the fact that the industrialists have some rights under the new bill.

We hope to hear Harold Stassen when he speaks in Canyon. We have always admired this youthful former Governor from Minnesota. But we are of the opinion that he will not get the GOP nomination. The powers within the party are very much opposed to him.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Matt

NEW-FANGLED NOTIONS

TIME WAS, WHEN OWNING A HORSELESS CARRIAGE, SENDING A GIRL TO COLLEGE, LIGHTING A HOME WITH ELECTRICITY WERE CONSIDERED NEW-FANGLED. BUT ONCE PROVED SOUND THESE "NOTIONS" WERE ACCEPTED. TODAY, WE TAKE THEM FOR GRANTED.

AT THE TURN OF THE CENTURY, HAVING LIFE INSURANCE PAID AS INCOME WAS EXCEPTIONALLY RARE. TODAY, MORE AND MORE AMERICAN FAMILIES ARE RECEIVING THEIR LIFE INSURANCE MONEY IN MONTHLY PAYMENTS, THUS MEETING THE NEED FOR INCOME REPLACEMENT. PROGRESSIVE IDEAS FIND READY ACCEPTANCE IN OUR DEMOCRACY.

and prevented production, consisting chiefly of artificial restrictions on the movement of goods.

Second, he believes that the virtual destruction of free markets in Europe has much to do with the dollar shortage. In this connection, he writes: "We might find, indeed, that the restoration of free markets in exchange, especially if combined with the restoration of free markets in commodities, would make virtually the whole Marshall Plan unnecessary."

Third, he observes that we simply have not the resources to feed the world. We produce only 12 per cent of the total food supply. Europe must restore her own production.

Next, he argues that aid from the United States will be futile unless each recipient country discontinues restrictive policies. As examples of needed reforms, he advocates balanced budgets, the elimination of exchange control and price control, the removal of excessive barriers to foreign trade, and the reduction of big military establishments.

On top of that, writes Mr. Eudlin, we cannot recommend sound policies to others unless we adopt them ourselves. He is convinced that we must sharply cut our cost of government, reduce taxes and tariffs and get out of "totalitarian controls" which still exist in our own domestic economy.

Mr. Eudlin feels that our international exports of goods abroad "has already caused dangerous domestic price rise, and cannot be maintained at the present unparalleled rate."

He mentions food as the principal example, and argues that the price increases which have occurred in recent months were very largely the result of our expanding food exports. Finally, Mr. Eudlin presents a positive program which he believes is needed if Europe is to be saved economically and the spread of communism is to be checked. That program, in part, involves the following points: We must free and strengthen the capitalist system at home, and offer more incentives for production. We must permit Germany and Japan to restore their own economies. We should return to a real instead of a technical gold base for our money, and invite all nations to cooperate in establishing a world gold standard. We should again open our private financial markets to foreign loans. We should frankly accept the challenge of communism, and defend capitalism without apology. And, to quote him directly: "We should expose the fallacies of European socialism by our own contrary example. Do not attempt to impose free enterprise on Europe either by coercion or by bribes—and also show the folly of a bankrupt Europe's trying to promote socialism in us."

This summary only touches the surface of a book that is unusually interesting. It may be one of the best signs of the time that so many informed men, of various points of view, are studying the world problem more intently than ever in search of a solution. Out of the mass of argument and evidence, much of it conflicting, the kernel of truth may finally emerge.

In the meantime, as Secretary Marshall has intimated, the world must go on whether or not Soviet Russia continues to attempt to oppose the plans we and the other Western powers offer. It is an unhappy truth that the world is again heading into two blocks—one dominated by Russia, the other led by the United States. This kind of cleavage has led to war in the past. At the same time, in the view of many, it need not lead to war again. If the Western nations can successfully organize sound economies, if they really can get back into production, if they can unscramble the mess that has resulted from controlled, artificially-pegged currencies, and if they can avoid the economic depression the Communists high command seems to be hoping for, it is difficult to see how the Soviet Union could either remain aloof from such a united front or how it could successfully oppose it. That, at least, is the hope of the American and British experts, no matter how wide their divergence of opinion as to the exact means of achieving the desired result.

PAY YOUR POLL TAX NOW And Avoid The Rush . . . .

We must have a record vote for 1948. Only if a substantial majority of Texas voters go to the polls November 1948 can honest representatives from Texas be elected. Unfortunately, to vote in Texas, voters must have a poll tax receipt, paid before January 31st, 1948. The Texas Almanac estimates the potential voters in Texas at 3,600,000. Last year only 1,163,184 went to the polls, that is only 32 per cent of the potential voters and 74 per cent of those qualified.

In 1948, in order to register the people's sentiments at the polls, a minimum of two millions must be qualified and cast their votes.

It is urgent that all people's organizations begin preparation now for a mass campaign for 2,000,000 poll tax payments in Texas. Officially, the period for payments begin October 1st, 1947, and ends January 31st, 1948. In this brief period, the people of Texas must be aroused to the need of paying this tax. This means that if all organizations begin steps now for their campaign, maximum use of this period can be made.

Democracy is on trial and all Democrats must be on the alert.

GET THE JOB DONE

The head of one of the principal American oil companies, in an address before the American Petroleum Institute, said this: "The really important thing for the oil companies, as for all of us, is that there be peace in the world and that another war be avoided. As individuals, as companies, and as a nation, we must work together to the utmost of our ability to further this end. The time is past for complacency; the time is past when we can engage in petty squabbles. As informed and progressive citizens, we can no longer advocate measures that would result in short-term, sectional benefits of a dubious nature. . . . We will advocate instead policies that are designed to advance the interest of a free and democratic world society."

Oil is in itself an instrument of international diplomacy—and a vital tool of world recovery from the disastrous effects of the last war. Europe must have oil for her power plants, factories, and rail and water transportation. The decline in European coal production, resulting from manpower shortages and other causes, has further magnified her oil problem. The success of the Marshall Plan will depend, not only upon dollars for Europe, but on materials for European rehabilitation, and oil is among the most important.

This situation makes it a "must" that European sources of oil be promptly developed, because with domestic production running at virtual capacity to meet local demand, it is out of the question for this country to indefinitely supply the oil which is so vital to European recovery. That is why the American oil industry is now accepting the leadership for achieving the maximum development of the oil resources of the world.

Czechoslovakia has concluded trade agreements with the Netherlands and Romania. The Dutch will supply tin, copra, linen, rubber, fish, meat and vegetables in exchange for Czechoslovakian machinery, automobiles, textiles, glass, wood and chemicals. Romania will send corn, oil seeds, wines, cattle and petroleum products, while Czechoslovakia will supply coke, steel pipes, plows, tractors and textiles.

Dutch coal production for 1948 is expected to reach 12 million tons, more than 90 per cent of 1938 output. The domestic supply already is sufficient to provide the needs of priority industries, and 85 per cent of the needs of all Dutch business.

Venezuela's resources of vegetable oil are being investigated by a mission of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization. The experts are studying the possibility of exploiting oil-yielding plants that grow wild in Venezuela.

Parcels for France mailed in the United States now may weigh up to 22 pounds. The previous limitation was 11 pounds.

Refugees to Get
Now Idle Farms

Propose to Replace Those
Who Left by Homeless
From Across Sea.

CHICAGO.—Refugees from across the Atlantic may replace America's youth who left the farms for the bright lights and big city life in the last six years. A movement already is under way in Minnesota to see what jobs and housing facilities are open to Europe's displaced persons.

North Dakota has made such a survey. Iowa is about to begin one. South Dakota, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Montana will shortly follow suit.

Back of the project are the state department, the Citizens Committee on Displaced Persons, the Catholic hierarchy, the National Catholic Rural Life conference, the National Lutheran council and many other Protestant denominations.

Project Explained.

Edwin R. Armstrong, New York City representative of the Citizens Committee on Displaced Persons, explains the project thus:

Close to 100,000 European D.P.s could be successfully resettled in these seven North Central states with relatives or others of the same national background and religious affiliations.

All of the refugees would be thoroughly screened by the army, church and welfare agencies and would have to meet all health requirements of the immigration laws.

In these North Central states there has been a population loss of 195,000 persons in the last six years.

Young people have almost entirely migrated elsewhere. The average age of the farmers now working the land is 60 years.

Empty farm houses pepper this wide area and farm work goes undone because of a labor shortage.

"Displaced persons," Armstrong said, "would live, by invitation, where there is already room for them and jobs waiting."

"They will resettle the great farm areas where there has been such a mass exodus."

Armstrong Replies.

Armstrong blamed "city thinking" for any existing resentment toward the project, which, as the Stratton bill, is now before congress and will be presented to the full session in January.

He refuted the "city thinking" objections with these answers:

1. The displaced persons will do a hard type of farm work and manual labor which Americans don't want to do.

2. Since most of the D.P.s can't speak English they can't compete with the white-collar class. They do not desire to, anyway.

3. They are rugged or they wouldn't have survived the European chaos. None of the disabled will be allowed to come. Health regulations screen out other undesirable.

4. The refugees are all violently anti-Communist, many of them coming from countries which already have suffered much pressure from the Reds.

According to present plans, 100,000 Catholic and Protestant refugees would be brought each year for four years.

Surveys now completed indicate that in the Missouri river belt from North Dakota to Kansas, there are 250,000 Americans of German-Russian descent who have 20,000 relatives in D.P. camps.

Of Joe Miller's Famous Gags

PHILADELPHIA. — Joe Miller, who wrote the old joke book, should have lived until the present day.

One of the grandfather gags was repeated before Recorder's Judge O. Z. Ide.

It seems that at 3 a. m. Austin Griffin heard a commotion in the chicken coop behind his house.

He grabbed his shotgun, he testified, rushed outside and yelled, "Who's in there?"

And out of the chicken coop came a slow Southern drawl, "Ain't nobody here except us chickens."

Griffin testified that he waited 20 minutes and then out tiptoed Marion Miller Jr., 27, with a chicken tucked under his arm.

Griffin said he fired a blast—into the air—and Miller dropped to the ground insisting he was mortally wounded.

Judge Ide sentenced Miller to spend 30 days in a different coop—the house of correction.

Aid to Build Town in Italy
For Children Without Homes

ROME.—The chief of the United States relief mission to Italy said that 80 million lire ($228,570), derived from the sale of United States relief goods turned over free to the Italian government, had been given to an Italian religious organization to build a village for homeless children.

Richard W. Bonneville, head of the mission, said the money came from proceeds piling up from the sale of more than 100 shiploads of post-UNRRA special relief.

The village, to be built by the Piccoli Apostoli in Fossoli, will shelter and educate 600 children. Proceeds from the sale of United States relief goods also supports a feeding program for one million.

In 1946 the average farm wage for farm hands in the United States was $521 per year.

U. S. Air Force Asks Fund of 300 Million

Calls It 'Cheap Insurance' in Case of Invasion.

WASHINGTON.—U. S. air force leaders estimate that 250 million dollars to 300 million dollars a year would be needed to put American air power on top in aviation research and keep it there.

They call this "cheap insurance" against another Pearl Harbor, but are far from certain that congress will go along.

In 1946 when an economy wave hit the legislature, the air force (then the army air force) asked for 272 million dollars but received only 200 million dollars. In 1947 the appropriation was slashed to only 110 million dollars and, unless the lawmakers have a change of heart, the air force expects no more than 147 million dollars in 1948.

Air force leaders not only are worried over the fund shortage but they point out that the production capacities of American aircraft industries have been reduced so sharply it is doubtful they could be revived quickly in an emergency.

The United States ended the war victoriously but five years behind Germany in most basic research and 10 years tardy in some. Now the air force, the army and navy are trying to catch up.

In some fields they have outstripped all other powers but their research costs have risen and they say they need money badly. They are striving in addition for a working partnership with science, engineering and the air industry. That also will take money.

The air force estimates it will need at least 3,000 aircraft annually for experimental purposes—that is, for use in keeping the United States ahead in the field of research.

New Fluorescent Light Kills and Deodorizes

CHICAGO.—A new fluorescent light that kills bacteria, deodorizes the kitchen and gives the housewife a suntan while she works was described at an American Chemical society meeting.

Sampson Isenberg, director of research of General Luminescent corporation, said the light would serve equally well in an office, factory, gymnasium or swimming pool.

The all-purpose lamp is made possible by a discovery of new and more stable chemicals that emit ultra-violet fluorescence, Isenberg said.

Mechanical Aids Supplant Brawn in U. S. Factories

PHILADELPHIA. — Bulging biceps and brawny backbones no longer pay a premium in U. S. industry.

"Heavy physical labor with its attendant grunts, groans, aches and pains is becoming irrevocably obsolete through American industry as a host of mechanical labor savers enable the 100-pound industrial worker to toy around with weights that once would have frustrated a circus giant," says John Lawrence, factory manager of SKF industries.

Scores of mechanized servants, such as small lift trucks which can hoist from 1 to 15 tons, individual cranes, hoists, power chucks and conveyors that whisk weighty industrial materials through the factory, are reducing worker fatigue to an all-time low, Lawrence reports.

Furthermore, he adds, total horsepower available in the nation's factories has climbed from about 50,452,000 in 1939 to a present high of 68,000,000.

"As a consequence, the handling of materials now accounts for only about 18 per cent of industry's production costs, as compared with 22 per cent a decade ago, and the per cent still is falling," Lawrence says, adding that the average SKF worker, for example, is now able to handle 50 per cent more materials by weight than he could five years ago—without flexing a muscle.

Burning Passenger Plane Lands Safely, All Unhurt

GALLUP, N. M. — A burning American Airlines passenger plane landed safely here, after catching fire in mid-air. None of the 21 passengers and crew of 4 aboard were injured.

Fire and smoke belched from the fuselage of the DC-6 as it braked to a landing. The Gallup fire department extinguished the blaze within 15 minutes after the plane reached the airport.

Capt. Evan W. Chatfield, piloting the plane from San Francisco to Tulsa, said his passengers "behaved wonderfully. They were calm all the way down."

Seaborne Guerillas Invade Greek Island Near Athens

ATHENS. — A band of 100 guerillas made a seaborne invasion of the northern part of the island of Evvoia, only 80 miles north of Athens, attacked the village of Exerohorion and killed 5 civilians.

Ten other residents were wounded in the attack, said the ministry of public order. The guerillas apparently came from the vicinity of Mount Orthrys, on the mainland.

Thirty persons were abducted from Exerohorion but later were released.

Grover Cleveland will be remembered as the President who extended the "Monroe Doctrine."

The A Brand

By J. EVETTS HALEY
ILLUSTRATION BY H. D. BUGBEE

Good brands are inclined to wear well, to persist, to endure. The exactions of a rough and rigorous environment persistently take their toll on the Western ranges. Hence, it is significant of strength of tradition, soundness of management, and quality of cattle that the first great brand on the Plains of Texas is still borne by thousands of beeves.

When Charles Goodnight decided to leave the eaten-out valley of the Arkansas, near Pueblo, in 1875, and quest again for virgin grass, he thought of the unsettled Staked Plains, a region he had scouted over as a Texas Ranger during the Civil War. He moved his herd down the Arkansas, trailed through the Two Butte country, wintered on the Canadian between Tucumcari peak and the Texas line, summered at the site of Tascosa, and in November, 1876, moved into the Palo Duro Canyon. Throughout that winter his cowboys herded the buffalo off their range to save the grass for their cattle.

There Goodnight established the first great ranch in the hundreds of miles of grassy range between Fort Bascom, New Mexico, and Fort Sill, Indian Territory, from west to east, and from Dodge City, Kansas, to Fort Concho, Texas, an even greater distance north and south. Since then the changes have been kaleidoscopic, but today, seventy-one years later, his wide range still covers the lower segment of the Palo Duro, and the brand he gave it is still known wherever good beef is bred.

But even frontier enterprise, if it spreads and flourishes, is dependent on money. Capital, too, is essential to cattle. And capital, and its hand-maiden credit, were harder than grass to find on the Western range after the depression of 1873, which helped move Goodnight out of Colorado.

It is no argument in economics but a simple statement of fact to say that three substantial features of Western life brought development to its ranges of grass. The land was being taken by men of imagination and character, business was free to venture and, despite the great risks, there was hope of profit. Credit follows character, and capital, like courageous men, ventures only in an atmosphere of freedom where there is chance for reward. These elemental features of human nature and natural economy lie back of the success of Goodnight's original venture into the Palo Duro.

At various times, from the close of the Civil War on, an Irish gentleman, John George Adair, had crossed the Atlantic. Once he came to claim a charming American wife and other times to hunt buffalo on the Great Plains and to seek investment for idle funds. Sporting instinct brought him West, and sense for business kept his money there. Financial friends in Denver steered him into Goodnight and they formed a partnership. Adair advanced the cash, and Goodnight, with driving energy, vast imagination, and consummate courage, carved the Palo Duro Ranch out of an unsettled world. He combined the first and last of Adair's initials into the JA brand, and made it known wherever good cowboys rolled their saddles upon the buffalo grass.

He freighted his first supplies from Trinidad, Colorado, trailed his cattle to Dodge City, Kansas, and looked to Henrietta, Texas, almost two hundred miles away, as the nearest approach to legal authority. At first they made their own laws. His men hanged an outlaw at the Mulberry Pens, and he repeatedly arrested others and sent them off to jail. When the Comanches and Kiowas broke off the reservation and began to kill his cattle, he met in council and made his own treaty with Quanah's tribe. He supported the earliest efforts toward law and order with his men, money and guns, and he turned the JA into a rich ranch of one and a third million acres, with more than a hundred thousand cattle, in eleven years.

In the passing stages of the frontier, no man looms as large upon the illimitable horizons of the Plains as Charles Goodnight, and the lengthening shadow of this great man was the institution known as the JA Ranch. Adair died in 1885 and two years later Goodnight divided the Palo Duro with Adair's widow, but retained the southern division known as the Quitaque. His vision in choosing the Palo Duro as the permanent location for a real ranch is more evident with time. Sheltered and secluded, unplowed and unplowable, it is still there. Its cowboys still look to the clean and shifting location of a chuckwagon on virgin grass as the nearest thing to "home, sweet home". It is still an outfit that counts its cattle in thousands, and measures its acres by the hundreds of thousands.

Substantial and tangible as the JA outfit is, however, it is more powerful still as a matter of mellow memory and stable tradition. That tradition was built on the enduring loyalty of skillful cowhands, of the character and courage of Charles Goodnight, the cultured nature of Cornelia Adair, the easily efficient management of Dick Walsh, and the impeccable trusteeship of the great and genial T. D. Hobart. Strong characters come and go, but their memory—symbolized by the JA brand—lives on.

3 MINUTE FICTION Smiling Annie

By Sue Reckefus

THE GIRL behind the counter wasn't pretty. She knew it and she didn't mind. It was easier to talk to the soldiers who came in for a sandwich and coke between trains. Not being pretty, she could joke with them and listen to their stories without flirting with them. When you were pretty, you felt you had to flirt a little.

They called her Annie. Annie with the smile. She wasn't smiling now as she wiped the counter. The place was empty and she had a chance to think about this morning. Mr. Jacobs had been mad, and sorry he was mad, which made him sound even worse. He had worked hard for his tiny restaurant and he was proud he was finally making a profit. He often spoke of his son overseas and how much he wanted enough money saved to give his boy a start when he came back. Lately he had begun losing money and it was Annie's fault.

She had begun in a small way not charging a few boys for their food and putting the money in the cash register herself. She couldn't resist the look on a boy's face when he realized a stranger was being kind. For the last few weeks, however, she didn't have enough to balance and Mr. Jacobs had found out. He had given her the last warning today. Once more and she would have to leave.

The girl wasn't pretty. She didn't mind. When you were pretty, you felt you had to flirt a little.

The door opened and a soldier walked in. He was tired, but he had a glow about him and his eyes were smiling.

"Hello," he said. "I know just what I want. I'll have two tall glasses of orange juice. Real orange juice not canned or anything else. I want to see you squeeze them and I want to smell the rind."

"Golly with the build-up, I hope we have some. I'll have to look."

She opened the refrigerator and peered into it. Way in the back were a dozen of the biggest oranges she had seen for a long time. Funny, she didn't know they were there. She must have missed them so far back.

When the first big glass was in front of him, he said, "Now I know I'm home. I wasn't too sure for a while." He slowly drained the glass and put it back on the counter.

He finished the second glass with a sigh of satisfaction and stood up to pay. Annie said recklessly, "It's on the house, soldier."

Turning toward the door, he said softly, "Yep, I'm really home."

Mr. Jacobs stopped by his restaurant to get some things he had left in the refrigerator and to see how Annie was making out. He gave her a cheerful greeting.

"Annie, did you see the oranges I asked you to save? I am sure I put them in here."

"I am sorry, Mr. Jacobs, I forgot. I gave them to a customer; a soldier. He was thirsty," she added helplessly, "I'm awfully sorry. I'll go get some more."

In a tired voice, Mr. Jacobs said, "I waited in line early this morning for these. They were the best in town. By the way, what did you charge for them?"

"Can't you please take it out of my next week's salary? I won't give for free any more. I couldn't help it this time. It was different somehow."

"It always is," he said flatly. "This was the last time, I'm sorry, too, but I'll have to let you go."

He walked out the door, not wanting to see her bleak eyes. Halfway down the block, he started to run toward a tall figure in khaki. He hugged his son and they started laughing together and sat down talking.

"Say, Pop, I stopped by the place before I got home. I thought maybe you would be there. But I couldn't have had better service if you had. A really swell girl made me some orange juice, just like I used to dream about. I knew I was home then. Boy, it was something. And by the way, she didn't charge me. That made me feel even better. If that kind of thing is your contribution to service morale, you couldn't have picked one better."

"You don't know how many fellows get on the beam again, just from somebody being nice to them who doesn't have to."

Wreckers Take Over Palaces

Death Knell for Mansions Marks Passing of New York's Golden Age.

NEW YORK.—The death of two famous mansions—the Vanderbilt stone palace on Fifth avenue and the Schwab stately granite chateau on Riverside drive—marks the final passing of New York's so-called golden age.

Some antics of the fabulous people of that fabulous day are recalled by Andrew Tulley, former war correspondent, in his book, "Era of Elegance."

Crashing with the blows of wrecker hammers destroying these two great edifices are the gaudy standards of the late 19th century financial titans, whose fortunes were so vast that society dandy Ward McAllister coined this rule-of-thumb definition of wealth:

"A fortune of only a million is respectable poverty."

Mrs. Astor's Palace.

Mrs. William Astor—"The" Mrs. Astor—dipped into 50 million dollars to spend $2,250,000 on a renaissance palace. Guests contributed one million dollars in gifts at the celebrated wedding of her daughter, Carrie.

But when they auctioned off the furniture of society's queen in 1909, a year after her death, the gilt chairs from her ballroom brought only $1.50 each and a huge tapestry that had dazzled visitors for two generations went for $10.

High-living Schwab poured eight million dollars of his steel profits into his 75-room, 40-bath Hudson river hideaway.

He put in a $50,000 pipe organ and a refrigerator that could hold 20 tons of beef.

It cost him $400,000 a year to keep up this overgrown bungalow, and Charlie, who had earned more than one million dollars a year, died cheerful—and broke. The final tally: Assets $1,389,509, liabilities $1,727,858.

Built Moat Around Him.

Isaac Brokaw, multi-millionaire clothier, insisted that his architect put a real moat around his Fifth avenue castle on the ground that "there's more robbers in this town than all those King Louies had to put up with" in France. All that ever tumbled into the moat, however, was a runaway horse.

The original John D. Rockefeller, retiring at 56, spent between 20 million dollars and 40 million dollars on his 7,000-acre "Kijkuit" estate overlooking the Hudson.

He lived for years on a diet of human milk and built a $25,000 turntable so he wouldn't have to move to keep in the sun.

Andrew Carnegie, who kept eight footmen in his three million dollar Scottish castle, for the sole purpose of pouring wine, built a two million dollar cottage on upper Fifth avenue also, just to have a headquarters to give away 250 million dollars late in life.

This so enraged his bitter enemy, Henry Clay Frick, that Frick vowed: "I'll make that place look like a miner's shack."

So Frick spent 17 million dollars on his own marble palace, stock it with 30 million dollars in art treasures and willed the whole thing as a public museum, hoping it would make his name outlast Carnegie's.

Income and inheritance taxes, the high cost of servants and other factors have led descendants to dispose of most of the moth-eaten grandeur huts built by the American money giants.

The United States is the world's leading producer of manufactured goods.

HERE'S WHY MOST MOTHERS DO THIS

When Children Catch Cold

Warming, soothing relief from distress of colds starts in a hurry when you rub on Vicks VapoRub at bedtime. Because VapoRub penetrates to upper bronchial tubes with its special medicinal vapors... and stimulates skin surfaces like a warming poultice. Then it works for hours to bring relief while the child sleeps! Try it tonight!

AT BEDTIME rub throat, chest and back with Vicks VapoRub. Its relief-bringing action starts instantly to relieve distress...

WORKS WHILE CHILD SLEEPS to bring relief during the night. Often by morning most misery of the cold is gone!

O. W. Parker Goes
To Spring Show

O. W. Parker, owner of the Western Auto Associate Store, left Sunday morning to attend the Western Auto Spring Merchandise Show to be staged in Wichita, Kans., Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. Parker said the show will feature many new products, and improved 1948 versions of present Western Auto merchandise. Emphasis will be on spring and summer lines of home, automotive, and recreational items. Purpose of the exposition is to enable Western Auto Associate Store owners to make early, first-hand selections, and place commitments for spring and summer stocks.

"From advance reports and present indications," Mr. Parker said, "it is safe to say that the 1948 merchandise picture is one of 'good news' for the consumer. Improvements in familiar products, and a lot of exciting new things for better living, are evident everywhere as industry gains momentum in catching up with shortages."

Lions Club Hears Guest Speaker At Thursday Program

The regular meeting of the Lions Club, Thursday, Jan. 8, featured the beginning of plans for a program of civic improvement, and a speech by B. M. Keese, appraiser of the Veterans Administration Guidance Center.

Milton Morris was in charge of the special moving picture "Bambi," proceeds of which are to be devoted to the purchase of playground equipment for Canyon children. At the three showings of the special release, a total of $625.00 has been raised to date. With what is yet to come in, and deducting $35.00 for advertising and publication expense, the total sum cleared will exceed $600.00. Gratitude for the generous contributions has been expressed by the Lions Club to the Canyon and Randall County community.

The speaker, Mr. Keese, is well known in Canyon and the Panhandle area, being a graduate of West Texas and also of Texas Tech. His experience has been primarily in the educative field, having been teacher, principal and teacher in public schools for a number of years. He was chief of personnel and coordinator of training with the Army Air Force, stationed for the duration of the war, at Lubbock Army Air Field. He has served with the veterans administration for two years as vocational counselor, hence his informative talk on vocational guidance was well received.

He stated that about 90 per cent of high school graduates should enter the skilled or semi-skilled trades, and only ten per cent should prepare to enter professions. The present curriculum is quite inadequate to cope with such a placement problem. Schools can go only in the direction the public is traveling. For that reason the great majority of students who drop out of school have done so for lack of interest. Schools on every level should train people to assume work in which adjustment will be assured. The testing program carried on by the veterans administration deals with one's interest, aptitude, intelligence and attitudes primarily. Many of the advisee's peculiar problems are discovered and analyzed in the interview. In the last analysis the individual must always make his own choice as to life work.

Guests for the day included Don Fitzhugh and Kenneth Goodman with Lion A. K. Goodman; Albert Byars with Lion Worth Jennings. New members formally entering the Club were Olin Huff and Albert Byars.

A pair of New Jersey tomcats fall heir to $32,000. Our dream of what we would like to be in our next incarnation has been revised accordingly.

Shower Is Given For Recent Bride

Mrs. Otho G. Bain, nee Miss Martha Nelle Payton, was honored with a bridal shower given Saturday afternoon, Jan. 10, by Mrs. J. C. Dowd, Mrs. T. W. Henderson, Mrs. T. T. Pain, Mrs. J. T. Carritte, Mrs. E. B. Anthony and Mrs. John L. Hammond, in the home of Mrs. Anthony and Mrs. Hammond.

The honoree and her mother, Mrs. J. I. Payton, were presented with corsages of white carnations by the hostesses.

Red roses and white carnations decorated the living room carrying out the bride's colors.

The serving table was covered with a cloth of Madeira handmade linen and was centered with an arrangement of red roses in a crystal candelabra.

White iced cakes topped with small red wedding bells, coffee and toasted pecans were served.

The guests were greeted at the door by the honoree, her mother, and the hostesses.

If this isn't peace in the old sense, perhaps it will do as a moral substitute for same, if we're careful to keep the "cold war" in the deep freeze.

NEW PRAIRIE CHIEF

... head writer after mid-term.

Nearly everything except prices seems to be reverting to the pre-war norm these days—even the editorship of The Prairie.

Back in the golden era (before 1943 and selective service), a woman editor of the West Texas weekly newspaper was a rare occurrence that happened only once in 25 years, affirms Clyde Warwick, whose printshop has been home territory for Prairie staffs ever since the first edition was published there in 1918.

"That is, only one girl editor during the long sessions," he adds, remembering a few who had the position during the summer months. But for over four years, The Prairie has been largely at the mercy of aspiring young women journalists. Again, with one exception, this one during the short session—Vaughn Vandergriff was editor last summer. The feminine touch had a brief inning—and the masculine faction is at bat once more.

Frank Stallings, sophomore English major from Pampa, was appointed to the head scribe position Wednesday night by the Student Senate. Present sports editor, he will take over the top job with the first Prairie of the new semester, January 27.

For several years, Stallings has worked with both the editorial and composing room staffs of the Pampa News. This is his second year as writer for The Prairie, and he is secretary to the West Texas journalism fraternity, Type High.

After mid-term Johnnie Fay Cresens, who has been editor since the spring of 1946, will be employed by The Amarillo Times. She submitted her resignation to the Senate December 10.

I foresee peace and abundance in 2004 because the greed and lust of the 20th century will have been brought into the open where they can be seen and destroyed. The destruction of these evils began in 1947 with our determined effort to aid the suffering people of Europe.

Griggs To Return To WT Thursday

As much a tradition of this school as maroon and white or freshman caps, Dr. Edward Howard Griggs, octogenarian and intellect, will return to West Texas State College Thursday and Friday of this week for another of the brand of lecture series that have made him so popular here.

Deemed a "visiting professor" several years ago by vote of the faculty, Dr. Griggs is listed in Who's Who as one of the nation's most outstanding lecturers. In his long history of speaking tours throughout the United States, he probably has addressed more young people of this country than any other man.

Dr. Griggs' lectures, to be given at 11 and 2:30 o'clock each day in the main auditorium, are the first feature of the lyceum program this year and will be free both to students and to outsiders.

As announced by Dr. Wallace R. Clark, chairman of the lyceum committee, the titles of his addresses are (in order they will be given): "Socrates, Teacher and Martyr," "Shakespeare's Richard II, the Privolous King," "St. Francis of Assisi and the Spiritual Awakening of the Middle Ages," "Shakespeare's Antony and Cleopatra: World Forces and the Individual."

Meeting Reveals Various Ideals

Mr. J. E. Miller returned this week from a conference of the Texas School Executives and Teacher Trainers which met in Austin, Texas from January 8 to 10.

An outstanding speech was made by Dr. Gordon Maddox, President of the Health Educators Association and practicing physician of Dallas, who stressed the ills resulting from smoking cigarettes, and emphasized the fact that eight different diseases result from smoking. The most important disease is that of cancer of the lungs due to smoking. Dr. Maddox pointed out that the effects of nicotine on the body causes restriction of the blood vessels, hardening of the arteries and berger's disease, a disease of the feet. He also emphasized the fact that school children should not smoke, that nicotine is fifty times more poisonous than morphine and that adults should guide the youth so they will become non-smokers.

Dr. L. D. Haskew, Dean of the School of Education, University of Texas, spoke on the subject of the place of schools in the community. He pointed out that the school should be an agency that will build better communities in which to live, an institution that should mold the thoughts and activities of the community. In order to become such an agency will require better professional leadership, real professional supervision and a concerted community program. The school should make the community the finest place in which to live.

"The conference is one that should have great worth in the reorganization, development, and improvement of the Texas public schools. It shall be our purpose in the Canyon Public Schools to develop the type of school program that will tend to make the community of Canyon second to none as a place in which to enjoy prosperous and healthful living," states Principal Miller.

Please Don't Push

It sure is great to have some thoughtful people left in CHS. They don't push, shove, or step on you all the time. These folk take time in getting to classes and still get there in plenty of time. They don't try to run over every one in the path.

Not only in the halls, between bells, but also at noon and at the end of the day they are still kind. These cultured students get out of the building when dismissed just as soon as anyone else, and with much less noise. They live just as long, and have just as many, if not more friends as those that raise all those "rough houses."

One often goes faster, if he moves more slowly,—mainly, by being a little bit more polite.

UNDERCOVER

Wastebaskets—where would we be without them? After all, if it weren't for them, what would we do with our personal, private, and oh, so very secretive, notes? When we finish reading one, we hastily wad them up and throw them there and think they are forever gone. Naturally, we think Mr. Hollabaugh would have no earthly use, whatsoever, for our silly notes, so we don't have to worry about him. BUT—what if, while they are supposedly burning away in the trash barrel, one got caught in the wind and blew right on your doorstep. "Oh, agony, if only Daddy had read that special one I wrote to George—". "Well, you could have avoided that, Betty, if you just hadn't written it in the first place." Writing notes consumes precisely one-half the time of classwork, besides all that one missed while writing and reading them. Remember, there are three minutes between classes, so if it is important enough to put on paper, surely one can wait a matter of minutes and tell that little sweetie all about his blood pressure then!

Seven Office Workers Are Principal Miller's Helpers

High school girls working in the principal's office this year during their off periods are, Betty Jean Schuette, Wanda Jean Edwards, Gladys Lowe, Rita Gunter, Frances Standley, Ruth Lill and Letha Harwood. Frances has worked in the office for four years and now keeps the permanent absentee records. Betty Jean has helped for three years and Wanda, Gladys, Rita, Ruth, and Letha have worked for one year.

Mr. J. E. Miller, Mr. E. A. Wooten and Miss Paula Frazier attended a district meeting of the Girls Basketball League of Texas at Panhandle yesterday.

School will be dismissed today, January 15 at 3:30. The PTA meeting will be held immediately after the school buildings are clear of students.

Students Fear Midterm Near

22nd Year

Cal really did have a busy week-end! There was the tournament at Claude, the shows in Amarillo, and of course plenty to do in Canyon.

Martha Wilson and Rusty Davis, Clifford Burtz and the Amarillo gal, Glenna Elland, were seen at the show in Amarillo Sunday night.

Tell us, Dickie Barrett, what is the special interest in Amarillo? It couldn't be one of those Amarillo girls, could it?

Katie Furlow and Harold Martin were together Saturday night. Keep up the good works, kids.

Is it true that Mary Ruth Hill has Tommy Gooch's FFA pin?

Barbara McDougal and Wayne Griffin pass away the time by sitting on Barbara's front porch! Just talking?

Wayne Willis, who used to live in Plainview, and Gladys Lowe really do have up a case. Too bad he had to move to Colorado!

What is Verna Davenport going to do when Lee Bailey moves to New Mexico?

Mickey King and Anita Ruthart seemed to enjoy the tournament at Claude together, Friday.

Ruby Wallen just can't seem to make up his mind between Christine Mobley and Arabeth Prichard.

Jean Hill and that happy Happy boy, Gary Barrett, seemed to be having fun riding around Sunday afternoon.

Merry Borden and Dorothy Butler were having a good time Friday night with two college boys.

Betty Slagle with the pink hair, and James Guthrie, an Ex of CHS were seen at the show in Amarillo Saturday night.

This really must be love! Janey Forester has Junior Puffer's of Dimmitt, National Honorary Society Pin.

If Geneva McDougal wants Paige Carruth back, she had better hustle before he gets married to an Amarillo gal.

Our dear old editor, Guy Brant and one of our outstanding reporters, Billie Marie Money, really do have a lot to talk about in the hall during the noon hour.

Double jeopardy is where a fellow finds himself down with typhoid fever, beside being King of Greece.

Eagles Capture Claude Tournament

Tourney Attracts CHS Basketeers

Continuing the sports scope of basketball, the Canyon Eagles and Eaglettes will enter as guests of the Dimmitt Invitational Tournament in Dimmitt, Friday and Saturday, January 16, and 17.

The Eaglettes are the first to play, competing with Friona at 2:00 Friday afternoon. If this feat is won, Canyon will then meet the winners of Vega and Wildorado, Saturday at 2:00. Winners here will play in the final playoff at 7:30, Saturday night.

Not playing until Saturday morning at 10:00, the Eagles will clash with the winners of Tulia and Vega. Provided Canyon is victorious, they will play at 3:00 Saturday afternoon, the winner of the Hart-Wildorado game. Then if the Eagles come out on top, they will be contestants in the finals Saturday night, just after the girls' game.

Practice Encourages Students Feelings

Speedy little rascals, aren't they? New top speed is being reached by the students in first and second year typing classes. They have climbed to the average of twenty and more words per minute. This goal has been successfully reached through practice, broken fingers, and of course, a new method of grading has been an extra great help.

The students have been practicing on this speed particularly to pass the semester typewriting examinations. Every one is expected to pass since all have been working very hard on rates in speed.

Grade Notes

Mrs. T. W. Collins' room is making a unit on health and food. Alton Franklin from Panhandle enrolled in Mrs. A. K. Goodman's room this week. The room has made an Eskimo scene and also a frieze.

Nita Delores Newton and Billie Gene New were absent from Mrs. Joe Black's first grade.

Mrs. Dan Usery's room has made books on the Eskimo unit.

Students from Mrs. Tom Brasher's room who took trips during the Christmas vacation were Annette Meyer, California; Johnette Weeks, California; Joan Payne, South Texas and Mexico; and Garland Ruthart, Hugo, Oklahoma. Dora Gene McAtee was absent because of illness last week.

Mrs. L. M. Cousins and students extend their sympathy to Perry Neal Slagle and family upon the death of his grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Costley. Phyllis Wallen has moved to Roswell, New Mexico. Nancy Ruth Windham from Amarillo has enrolled in school. Mrs. Bill Hood was a visitor in the room Monday.

Wanda Franklin from Panhandle has enrolled in Mrs. Veal Iverson's room.

Mrs. E. F. Welch is now supplying in the department of public school music in the vacancy recently created by the untimely passing of Mrs. Virgil O. Martin. Mr. and Mrs. Welch have located in Canyon and are living at 911 5th. They formerly lived in Amarillo.

Friday night Mrs. Irene Blewett gave a demonstration of bookbinding to Mrs. Veal Iverson, Shirley Peppard, Doris Bourn, Nancy Baeton, Laura Kinney, Betty Glanton, Sally Jo Richardson, Lucy Hollabaugh, Ruth Ann Bolton, and Helen Martin. The classes are now making hobby shelves in the library. Two of these are for salt and pepper shakers and airplanes.

The recent business with Howard Hughes is nothing new to me. People up in Maine are used to accusations being hurled against me.—Sen. Owen Brewster (R.-Me.).

Furniture buyers at the International Home Furnishings Market, Chicago, in January will seek to avoid last summer's mistake. Underbuying then has brought higher prices and tight supplies because an expected slump in consumer demand for furniture never came.

Exam Schedule

Mid-term examinations will begin Wednesday morning at 10:30. The two first period classes will be held on a 45 minute basis. The exam schedule beginning at 10:30 will be as follows:

Wednesday—23

10:30-12:00—all third period classes
12:45-2:15—all fifth period classes
2:15-3:45—all seventh period classes

Thursday—24

9:00-10:30—all first period classes
10:30-12:00—all second period classes
12:45-2:15—all fourth period classes
2:15-3:45—all sixth period classes

"Students will report for regular class work Wednesday morning during the first two periods. When the Exam schedule begins for the third period classes students will be required to report only at the time they have examinations scheduled. Students may use the library for study between and during exams but loitering in the halls during examinations will not be permitted," stated Principal J. E. Miller.

Elementary and high school students will not report to school Friday, January 25. School buses will not run Friday.

Chests Are Made In Shop Class

Twelve cedar chests are being made in Mr. Sanders' shop class. Ten of the chests were ordered already glued together. The other two have been made entirely from cedar boards. The dimensions are approximately 19" wide and 47" long and 20" in depth. The boys that ordered theirs are Dick Barrett, Tommy Hunter, Carol Wilson, Horace Carter, Leo Erwin, Wayne Davis, Jerry Harding, Donnell Ruthart, Wayne Kelso, Travis Payne, and those that made them entirely from cedar boards are Jimmy Lindsey, and Gerald McDuff. They are just a little behind those that ordered.

Other things that are being made are tables, gunracks, gunstocks, tie-racks, and other useful things.

Mr. Sanders, teacher of Shop, also teaches Mechanical Drawing and World History.

Tournament Trophy Decorates Dominated Case In CHS Hall

That new addition to the trophy case of Canyon High School is really something because it is too large for the trophy case. Thirty-two inches in height, it bears the inscription "First Place, North Plains Tournament, Claude, '48."

Three gold stars decorate each side of it. A gold cup tops the base and a basketball player tip-toes on it. Two other boys of gold stand on each side of the name and place bearer. This was our award for winning the North Plains Tournament.

J. W. Shook and the Hickman Motor Company presented the teachers with 1948 calendars. The wall calendars which emphasize safety were donated by The Hickman Motor Company. J. W. Shook gave each teacher a small decorative desk calendar.

At a recent meeting of the Canyon Chapter of Future Farmers of America, members heard reports on the Thrift Bank made by Tommy Gooch, secretary of the first year class and James Bible chairman of the hog improvement committee gave an account on the sale of the two Black Poland sows and the banquet committee reported on possible dates for the banquet.

Other parts of the program are "Thrift Quotations" by Billy Cunningham; "Five Cents A Day" by Jerry Harding; "Statistics About 100 Men" by Robert O'Donald; and "How to Save" by Don Johnson.

Refreshments of hot cocoa and cookies were served by the committees.

IN MEMORY OF MRS VIRGIL O. MARTIN

1. She was ever efficient, cooperative, and professional in her teaching.
  2. She was loyal, faithful, and inspirational as a friend.
  3. As a mother, she was ambitious for her children and devoted to her family.
  4. As a citizen of the town, she was progressive and worked tirelessly in her efforts for its development.
- Be it resolved that we, the administrators of the Canyon school, Elmer A. Wooten, superintendent; James E. Miller, principal of the high school; Elva Fronabarger, principal of the grade school; and the entire faculty, in loving remembrance do commit to the memory of our friend, a recent member of our faculty, this expression of appreciation.

Chemistry Brings Various Subjects

The past few weeks the Chemistry students of Canyon High School have been studying many different types of material.

The pupils studied molecular composition, atomic and molecular weights, and atomic structure last week.

Also, Mrs. A. K. Young, Chemistry teacher, has been teaching them about Acids, Salt, bases, and hydroxides, and how to distinguish between the four.

Next semester will be devoted to working with Irons, sulfides, oxides, the Periodic Law, Colloids, Compounds, Nitrogen, alloys, different types of metals, and other things.

"Budgeting Human Values" Is Theme at PTA Meeting

A panel discussion with the subject of "Budgeting Human Values" will be presented to the members of the P. T. A. at a meeting, Thursday, January 15, at 3:30 p. m. in the grade school library.

The chairman of this discussion is Max Bellah and the other members are Laura Davis, Betty Thomson, Joan Bullard, Ruth Lill, and Jack Sparks.

This talk is to represent individual stand-points and will be divided into four different main topics which are as follows: "Time for Family and Home Life," "Time for School," "Time for Recreation," and "Time for Spiritual Development."

Canyon's school district has recently financed the purchase of eighteen wood B flat clarinets and two B flat slide trombones. The Clarinets are made of wood and were shipped to the United States from Czechoslovakia with an approximate cost of $165 each, but through H. R. Fulton's music store, the school was able to get a substantial discount for which they would like to thank Mr. Fulton.

The plan for each student who is interested in renting the clarinet will pay $3 per month of which two-thirds will be applied to the purchase of the instrument. The rental on slide trombones is $2.

A per-release of "Bambi" sponsored by the Canyon Lions Club to raise funds for the grade school play grounds of this city was presented Friday and Saturday. There was no charge to the show but donations were accepted.

Mrs. Charles Wright was at Canyon High School Monday afternoon investigating the taking of correspondence course. Other exes visiting school during the week were M. E. Rhodes, Orville Turner, Mrs. Betty Ponder Wright, Billy Abbott, James Guthrie, and Charles Wright.

The question seems to be: Is rationing rational?

H. E. Classes Give Buffet Luncheon

Freshman Homemaking classes concluded a unit on food by serving informal luncheons, Wednesday, January 7.

The second period class served from a buffet table covered with a white cloth. An unusual centerpiece of tumbleweed, tinted pale green, surrounded by English ivy, was used.

The menu consisted of: Tuna casserole, baked stuffed potatoes, congealed apple and celery salad, hot muffins, butter, white cake with orange frosting and coffee.

After the guests had served themselves, they were directed to quartet tables, covered also, with white cloths with small bowls of ivy as centerpieces.

Special guests were Superintendent E. A. Wooten, Miss Elva Fronabarger, and Mrs. T. E. Beard.

The sixth period class, also, served luncheon buffet style. A large tray of fruit was the centerpiece.

This menu was: Meat loaf, baked potatoes, orange sections in lime jello, biscuits, butter, cupcake with chocolate icing and iced tea.

Eagle's Tale Begins Editions in 1926

In October of 1926 the first issue of the "Eagle's Tale" was published in the Canyon News by Mr. Clyde Warwick. His was the first effort in the Panhandle to print a school paper in a weekly newspaper. Mr. John Randolph was selected as sponsor at a meeting of fifty-six students to organize a press club. There was a difficult decision between "Eagle's Eye," "Eagle's Supporter," and "Eagle's Tale" for a name. "Eagle's Tale" won by a small margin of one vote.

The first staff members were: editor-in-chief, Roger Shook; issue editors, Keith Donnell, Charles Strain, Lurline Bowman, and Jake Harrison; society, Irma Hinkle; features, Wyatt Webb; sports, Joe McReynolds; poetry, Opal Shuman. Roger Shook left school in January and Irma Hinkle succeeded him as editor and Bessie Chambers became society editor.

Canyon's press club gained membership in the Panhandle High School Press Association soon after organization. The first column similar to "Cactus Cal" was "Mother Eagle's Advice to Her Eaglettes." "Cal" was started in 1930 by Douglas Henson and the present cut was designed by H. H. Hutson of Amarillo and donated to the organization by Vincent Lockhart, now publisher and editor of the Canadian Record, Canadian, Texas.

The next year Keith Donnell was editor and Elmer Wooten was sports editor. Other editors have been Edward Gerald, Dorothy Faye Rusk, Katie B. Lowe, Vincent Lockhart, Louise Wester, Robbie Foster, Bill Cone, and Mary Ella Davis, Mary Collins, Carl Cone, Hudson Prichard, Jr., E. W. Woods, Jr., Dan

Three Boys Cop Honors in Meet

For the first time in Canyon High School's history, the Eagles brought home the bacon in the form of the first place trophy from the North Plains Tournament at Claude.

Starting the tournament off with a game against Quail, the Eagles came out victorious with a 34 to 43 margin. Austell Burrus was high point with 13 while Horace Carter had 12. Clemmets of Quail was high with 15 points. Coming back at 1:30 Friday, the Eagles over-powered the White Deer Bucks to a tune of 38-34. Carter had scoring honors with 16 and Burrus had 11. Buchanan, of the Bucks lead with 5 field goals.

Needing a win over the Dimmitt Bobcats, the Eagles, full of determination, entered the game and won 28 to 30. Austell hit scoring high with 11 and Carter had 8.

This win put the Eagles in the finals with Claude who led the Eagles 12 to 7 in the first quarter of the final and the Eagles came back to take a 18 to 16 stand at the half. At the start of the second half Claude jumped into a lead but the fighting team from Canyon came out 29 to 26. Horace Carter scored high, ringing 16 while Tommy Hunter looped 7.

After winning this game the Eagles brought home a 32-inch trophy which is so large it won't fit into our trophy case.

Canyon High Has Boys', Girls' Deans

Acting as dean of boys is Mr. J. E. Miller and as dean of girls, Mrs. Perry Bell, who report their duties as follows:

To counsel with individual high school girls and boys in regard to healthful living.

To hold general meetings for the purpose of giving instruction in cultural development.

To develop clean thinking, clean living, and proper selection of associates.

To advise with the high school boys and girls in regard to their educational development, selection of courses of study, and choosing their vocations.

Rotary Club Has Program On W. T. Financial Side

A look at the financial side of West Texas State was taken Tuesday at the Rotary Club program. Clyde Warwick compiled figures to show that Canyon had made a good investment when the citizens invested $100,100 in the institution 38 years ago.

The present plant is valued at $2,435,947.04.

Of this amount, the legislature has appropriated for buildings $975,022.87; individual gifts have been made totalling $335,926.17; the federal government has donated $175,000; and money has been borrowed on bond issues amounting to $950,000. There are outstanding bonds totalling $877,000.

Students coming here pay fees, board and room averaging $300 per semester, or $600 per year. Aside from this about $50 per month in incidentals are spent. The 1140 students are therefore spending about $1,250,000 per year at the college and in Canyon. State appropriations are based upon the number of students. Therefore an increase of 100 Freshmen next year would bring into the trade channels of the community about $103,800.

The legislature increased appropriations practically double in the last session, or $557,579 for 1947-48 as compared with $278, 587 for 1946-47.

So far as the museum is concerned, the state has appropriated $70,000 since 1932; individual donations amount to $232,500, aside from materials placed in the museum which are estimated at from $500,000 to $750,000. The federal government has donated $350,000 to the museum in cash, materials and projects.

Since the Chapel fund was started by Dr. J. A. Hill, cash donations have been received amounting to $33,506.90, with pledges amounting to $2,000.

Gathering all these figures, Mr. Warwick found that the state had appropriated $1,045,022 to the physical plant on the campus; the federal government had contributed in various manner $525,500, while individuals from this region have contributed $1,103,931. This is a startling revelation of the generosity and interest of citizens of this region in the college.

Summing up the past 38 years, the speaker was firm in the belief that Canyon made a good investment in the college and will continue doing great things for the institution.

Dr. James P. Cornette was introduced as a member of the club by Doug Shirley.

Visitors were: E. A. Wooten of Canyon; Barney Davidson of Shamrock; Jim Gatewood of Garland; K. W. Kendrick, Claud Ward, Earl Kromer, E. E. Nichols, Arnold Atteburg, E. Kancher, Forrest Barnes, Densel Dean, all of Amarillo.

Men strive for success. But what is success? Measured by the standard of their day, many men were failures—and yet they achieved immortality. Defeat may be in the path of finer fame and greater glory than victory. Who occupies the larger space in history—Hannibal, the military genius of ancient Carthage, who lost only one battle; or Scipio, the Roman who won that one battle? Hundreds of biographies have been written about Napoleon; a half dozen about Wellington, the victor of Waterloo. Who will be remembered longer; Robert E. Lee or U. S. Grant? Lee's name shines with glorious luster; he is the embodiment of chivalry, of knightliness, of gallantry; Grant is remembered only because he overwhelmed Lee by the sheer weight of numbers.

Your columnist is probably the only person in Texas who has neither read the book, "Gone With the Wind" nor seen the movie of that same name nor heard the song, "Open the Door, Richard" nor been in THAT store in Dallas.

As far as his contemporaries were concerned, Shakespeare was just one of the boys.

The checking out time of hotels is getting earlier and earlier. It used to be 6 in the afternoon; now, at most of them, it is 5 or even 4. If this keeps on, pretty soon when a man registers, he will already owe one day's room rent.

Expect folks are a little "het" up in the Young County capital. A radio commentator recently remarked he was from Graham where, he said, "there is the biggest square in Texas—and folks with heads to match." That's what the man said!

Right now in every woman's closet, there are dresses and suits and coats she will never wear again—dresses outmoded by the new fashions, suits and coats she thinks she may have some day lengthened, but won't. Europe needs these clothes desperately.—Sherman Bows, New York.

Births In Texas
Increased Over
State's Deaths

It is estimated that during 1947 there were 195,000 live births and 61,000 deaths in Texas. The number of births in 1947 far exceeds the former record of 180,000 in 1946. The excess of births over deaths last year gave Texas a natural increase in population of 134,000 people, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

It has been apparent for some time that reductions in the mortality due to preventable causes could not any longer offset the staggering increase in the number of deaths due to cancer and the various heart diseases. For this reason, it was not difficult to predict that 1947 would see the general death rate begin an upward trend.

Practically all of the increase in the mortality during the first nine months of 1947 may be attributed to the steadily mounting toll of death levied against the population by heart disease, cancer, and apoplexy.

Considerable satisfaction should come to those engaged in public health work in knowing that during the first three quarters of 1947 the lowest death rates ever recorded in Texas were reached for the following diseases: Typhoid fever, diarrhea and dysentery, scarlet fever, diphtheria, measles, poliomyelitis, tuberculosis, malaria, syphilis, pellagra, and typhus fever.

I don't think a man should have free speech when his speech is to tear down free speech. I think that is just ordinary common sense. I saw a cartoon in a newspaper. Two fellows were talking, and one of them said: "Ivan, you can't do that; they won't let you." He said: "They will. I'm going to stand on my constitutional rights until I tear the damned thing to pieces."—Harlow H. Curtice, vice-president, Buick Motor Division, General Motors.

BOX GOT IT, TOO!

Maybe you wouldn't know it, but the guy with both hands on the ball is Boyce Box, captain of the Buffaloes. I wonder if the referee saw the way McIntyre No. 26 of Arizona had his hand clasped around Box's wrist. Others in the picture are Bill Allen, No. 32, who is hiding behind McIntyre and Morris Udall of the Arizona Wildcats, No. 33. The game was played Thursday night and Arizona won in the overtime thriller 72-69. (Photo by Tom Knighton)

Arizona Wildcats Take 72-69 Decision in Overtime BC Tilt

Fans of the Buffaloes saw one of the most thrilling exhibitions of basketball in the history of the school last Thursday as Arizona University nudged past the home team in an overtime period 72-69.

The game was a hard-played one from beginning to end and the lead changed hands many times. Most of the game was spent with only one or two points difference in the score. At halftime the Buffs held a 31-29 lead.

During the second half, both teams seemed to be unable to miss the basket, except on free shots. The score climbed rapidly to more than double during that half.

Link Richmond was the big headache for the Buffs. The great Arizona forward, who was slowed down by an injury to one knee, scored 19 points to take scoring honors for the game. Fred Enke, Jr., son of the Arizona coach, along with Boyce Box and Sammy Malone scored 16 points.

A thrilling climax ended the regular 40-minute playing period as both teams tried vainly to untie the score and just as the horn blew ending the game a shot bounced out of the basket, which would have given Arizona the game. The regular game ended 60-60.

Freshmen Lose to Phillips 37-34

Coming from behind to overcome a 10-point West Texas lead the Phillips Men's Club eked out a 37-34 victory over the Freshmen Saturday night in Phillips.

According to Borden Price, coach of the freshman team, the game slightly resembled a football game during the second half, as the WT men could not stop the scoring by Phillips' team.

Wednesday night this week the freshmen will journey to Amarillo for a game with Panhandle Laundry. This game will be played in the Amarillo Junior College Gymnasium.

Thursday night the team will be in Canyon for a game against Wayland College in Burton Gym.

"Because the team needs some spending money," Coach Price said, 25 cents will be charged to see this game.

The five-minute overtime period was full of action, but the Buffs were unable to cope with the Arizona sharpshooters. Extra points missed were the death of the Buffs as they could have tied the score again had they made all their foul shots.

The Buffs have now lost two against two wins thus far in the conference race with three important tilts coming up this week which may decide how they fare in the race this season.

Princess Reports On El Paso Trip

"What a marvelous time!" This exclamation in itself expresses the sentiments of Ruth Patman, Sun Princess from WT about her trip to El Paso December 26-January 1. She was one of forty girls representing various clubs and colleges.

She participated in the many activities given for the girls, one of these being the Coronation Ball in which the Queen and her attendants were presented.

Other pastimes included bull fights at Juarez, a reception given for girls by Queen, style show, luncheon given by "The El Paso Times," tour of New Year's Eve, dances, parade in which each sun princess had a separate float, football game between Texas Tech and Miami University, and Officers' Club Dance at Fort Bliss. The girls also were honored as guests on Art Linkletter's Radio Show.

Portable factories for the manufacture of wood pulp are being set up in various parts of the Philippine Republic. The pulp will be shipped to Manila to be made into paper at a new mill scheduled to open in April.

Remember it was Dr. Alan Nunn May who turned over to Russia samples of uranium 235 enriched and uranium 233.
